2007 - 2008

- » At the Fall 2007 Honors Program Awards Convocation, twenty-three students received the Sophomore Honors Distinction Award. All of these students had a GPA of 3.5 or higher after completing at least sixty hours, including at least twelve hours in Honors courses. Dr. Martin Kearney of the Department of English received the annual Honors Teaching Award.
- » Honors students participated in the National Collegiate Honors Council annual meeting in Denver, CO. Honors students Lucia Foster, Josh Robin, and Elizabeth Zaben and Honors faculty member Dr. Joan Faust represented Southeastern at this convention.
- » Anthony Mele received the Outstanding Honors Student Award from Phi Kappa Phi.
- » Eight senior theses were presented in public forums. The disciplines in which the theses were completed represent the breadth of the Honors Program: Biology, Management, English, History, Mathematics, and Political Science.
- » The Honors Student Team once again defeated all comers to win the Phi Kappa Phi Quiz Bowl during football Homecoming Week.
- » The Honors Club sponsored the Senior Awards Banquet in the Student Union Ballroom. At this banquet, graduating seniors were recognized for their efforts and presented with their Honors cords.
- » The Honors Program co-sponsored an interdisciplinary lecture series on Global Climate Change. The staff members were pleased to bring four speakers on campus representing the scientific, economic, public policy, and personal responsibility facets of this complex issue.
